

Small to medium size projects development

Jheir, through its established relationship with technology providers around the world, Facilitates client needs and feasibility studies in following fields:

- Additives production projects
- Polymers Recycling projects
- Packaging products manufacturing projects
- Bulk loading facilities at producer's sites as well as seaport wharfs.
- Food processing and refrigeration

Our services in this field cover the following:

- Selecting and engaging the consultant team
- Optimizing the business parameters
- Facilitating project startups
- Preparation of bid and contract documents.
- Supervise coordinate design development on behalf of the client
- Choosing the optimum project delivery system and contract
- Facilitate project finances